BEFORE YOU GO:

1. Make sure your passport is good for six (6) months after our arrival in Tanzania. Leave a copy at home.

2. The visa for Tanzania costs Americans $100. You can now apply online.

3. Visit a doctor to review recommended immunizations. Proof of Yellow Fever vaccination—or a waiver is required to enter the airport in Moshi if you travel through Ethiopia—but not if you arrive on KLM or Qatar Airways. There is NO yellow fever in Tanzania; we need this proof of vaccine or waiver IF we are flying through Ethiopia. Malaria prophylaxis is recommended. Traveler's diarrhea does happen. Be prepared with a quinolone antibiotic, such as ciprofloxacin. Check the Tanzanian Embassy website about other restrictions related to Covid closer to your departure.

4. Travel insurance is not generally needed.

5. Baking soda can be useful—for deodorizing soggy shoes, cleaning, etc. Just bring the whole box (not sure if it is available for purchase there).

6. It can be rainy or dry. Best to plan for both. A waterproof jacket could be helpful. Make sure your shoes can withstand mud and are secure enough to walk on muddy paths.

PACKING:

1. People should wear modest clothing that also protects from mosquito bites. Long skirts are appropriate for women. Men may want to bring a sport coat or cardigan sweater for more formal occasions such as the ordination celebrations.

The girls show off their dresses made in Moshi.

2. For wildlife park excursions, bring typical "safari"-style clothing.

3. We can have our laundry washed at the retreat centre—so you can come with one week's worth of clothing and have them laundered.

MONEY:

1. Bring cash in like-new US currency printed in 2009 or later. $100's and $50's get a better exchange rate than $20's. No marks, tears, or defects. We will exchange money in Moshi town the day after we arrive. The average exchange rate is around 2500 TZS per $1USD.

2. Bring a credit card for emergency use. Call the credit card company and inform them of your travel plans and destinations. Most purchases are paid in cash.

ACCOMMODATIONS:

1. We stay at Mwenge Retreat Centre. There are single and double rooms, each with a private bath.

<<< Yes, you sleep under mosquito netting!

2. Breakfast and dinner are included in the $40/day single and $30/day per person double occupancy rates. Lunch will be taken in various places. We may give a donation to the host (such as a parish or seminary). Transportation cost $30/day; tips $200 per 2-week visit.

3. Drink only bottled water!!!! Only brush your teeth with bottled water.

4. Electricity is 220V. You need this adapter if you use an electrical appliance (eg. Shaver or hair dryer). You also need a converter if the device is not auto-switching. (Computers and phones are auto-switching).

January weather forecast—high 90F, low 59F

Overnight during the safari can get colder!
Plan to wear layers!

It may rain. Be prepared.

TIPS FROM TRAVELERS

1. Be sure to have plenty of Purell or the equivalent. It is very important to keep your hands clean—and don't touch them to your mouth, nose or eyes.
2. Bring your own hangers—and plan to leave them there.
3. Power may go out at any time. Be sure you have a flashlight that you can carry with you. Extra batteries are also a good idea.

4. Mosquito repellent is a must! The OFF towelettes are best thing I've found for convenience. These should be readily available in the spring but may be hard to find if you are traveling in January.

5. Moshi is 8 hours ahead of the east coast and 11 hours ahead of the west coast in January.
6. You might need an alarm clock (or your phone alarm) to wake up in the AM their time.
7. Don't forget your meds.
8. Packs of tissues may be handy just in case!
9. Print and carry your itinerary with you as we travel by air.
10. Contact your cell phone company to turn on coverage in Tanzania if you want to use your phone there.
11. Wifi is available at the retreat centre.

Some people seem to attract mosquitoes and some don't. Wear long sleeves, full-length trousers and skirts; keep your skin covered. Put insect repellent on in the morning when you get dressed. Don't risk getting malaria! Avoid lotions and fragrances; they attract mosquitoes.

It can be chilly there. The locals and the visitors dress in layers!

It is always respectful of the people and the country we are visiting if we try to adapt to their culture and customs—such as “dressing up” for their special occasions and dressing modestly— no short skirts, shorts, or tank tops please. Women typically wear modest dresses. Longer ones help protect from mosquitos. ☺

TRAVELING— The airline on which you travel will depend on your airport of origin as the flight route can vary considerably.

Typically, each economy class passenger may check 2-50 lb bags free-of-charge; additional bags are typically charged up to $200. We ask that you pack one of your bags with your personal belongings and either you pack the second bag with needed items (such as liturgical items) or allow us to use your second baggage allowance to transport other items. Please plan to leave the second bag there. You can purchase luggage at second hand stores for a very reasonable price.

Carry-on baggage—Restrictions are dependent on the airline.
